CORE VALUES FOR PROVIDING HEALTH CARE

The American Academy of Pediatrics has endorsed the core values defined below. The Academy believes that medical care should be “accessible, continuous, comprehensive, family-centered, coordinated and compassionate,” and delivered or directed by well-trained physicians who are “able to manage or facilitate essentially all aspects” of care. The Academy believes that the physician should “be known to the child and family and should be able to develop a relationship of mutual responsibility and trust with them.” (American Academy of Pediatrics, 1992)

These values should form the basis for the development and evaluation of health care systems for families of children with special needs.*

Family-Centered Care. The system of care recognizes the importance of the family and reflects this in the way services are planned and delivered. It facilitates parent/professional collaboration, responds to family needs and the priorities that the family has set for itself, recognizes and builds on individual and family strengths, and respects the diversity of families.

Informed Consumer Choice. The system of care provides families with complete and unbiased information about the health care financing options available to them. The structure, benefits, services and points of access are clearly explained in the primary language of the family. Consumer choice is achieved when family preference is supported in determining primary and specialty care providers, as well as health care facilities.

Collaborative Care. The role of families as primary decision-makers and caregivers is acknowledged and supported when the health financing system pays for services that support this role. Family participation in the allocation of health resources is achieved when the parent is recognized as the primary decision-maker in the development of individualized plans of care.

Information Sharing. The system of care should assure that information concerning diagnosis, treatment, prognosis and resources be shared with all members of the health care team, which includes the family.

Community-Based. The system of care responds to the needs identified by the community and draws from the community to address needs. Services are provided in or near the home community to the extent possible.

Culturally Competent. The system of care honors and respects the languages, culturally related beliefs, values, interpersonal styles, attitudes, and behaviors of families. Respect for those values is incorporated at all levels of policy, administration and practice.

- Federal Poverty Chart

HOW TO USE THIS SECTION

- If you have private health insurance, review this section and compare it to your present coverage. Also take a look at Section C (Choosing a Managed Care Plan and Provider) to see if the health coverage you have answers your needs.

- If your child is currently served through any of the public programs you can review the narrative here and compare it with the services your child is receiving.

- If you think your child may be eligible for services through any of the public programs described, review the eligibility rules and call the state and/or local numbers listed in this section or in Section F (Resources).
Obtaining appropriate health care services for children can be an enormous challenge. Educating ourselves about the options available is a first step. Below is a description of the various kinds of private health insurance generally available.

PRIVATE HEALTH INSURANCE PROGRAMS

Private health insurance can be purchased either individually or through an employer as part of a group plan.

Traditional Indemnity Plans (Fee-for-Service)
These used to be the most familiar type of insurance plans. The insurance company covers some percent of the cost of the services with the remaining costs the responsibility of the family. The family’s part is called a co-payment. Plans often have annual deductibles, an amount you pay before the plan pays, as well as co-payments. While traditional indemnity plans allow you the widest choice of providers, your out-of-pocket costs may be higher than some other plans require. Indemnity insurance covers large and/or unexpected health care expenses, but often not routine or preventive care like regular check-ups and well-child visits.

Managed Care Plans
Managed care systems control costs by monitoring services and focusing on preventive health measures.

Under managed care, health plans, also called managed care organizations, get a fixed monthly payment for each person enrolled in their plan. For that money, they must agree to “manage” the person’s health services and provide health care. People who enroll in health plans must choose one personal doctor (or sometimes a nurse) [Primary Care Provider] to coordinate their health services. When enrollees need to see a specialist or need other services that their primary care provider cannot give them, they must first get a referral from their primary care provider. Managed care plans require payment of a monthly premium from the purchaser. Unlike indemnity insurance, you may have to make small co-payments for office visits, prescriptions and selected other services.

Health Maintenance Organizations (HMOs)
An example of a managed care organized health plan that offers health care coverage to its members primarily through selected networks of doctors, hospitals and other health care professionals. They operate under many different models:

- Staff Model HMOs typically own and operate their own health centers or clinics, where the doctors and other medical professionals are salaried employees. Many services under one roof allow for coordination of services. These types of HMOs can also closely monitor quality and costs of their physicians and services.

- Group Model HMOs are typically made up of one or more physician group practices that are not owned by the HMO. The HMO contracts with the group practice to provide or arrange covered services for each HMO member who is a patient of the group.

Adapted from “Paying the Bills: Tips for Families on Financing Health Care for Children with Special Needs” from New England Serve and “PASSPORT: For Children with Special Health Care Needs” from University Affiliated Program, Child Development and Rehabilitation Center, Oregon Health Science University.
Independent Practice Associations (IPA)
IPAs are now the fastest growing form of HMO in the United States. IPAs include individual private practice physicians who are paid a fee or a fixed amount per patient to take care of the IPA’s members. One of the advantages of this type of HMO is that you will have the largest number of physicians to choose from.

Point of Service (POS)
Plans are somewhere between standard HMOs and traditional fee-for-service (or indemnity) insurance. A member of a POS plan can receive care from doctors and hospitals inside the HMO network or outside the network, with costs covered either way. This is a more expensive option and is not offered by all HMOs or employer. It can mean a higher co-pay or out-of-pocket expense for out-of-plan services. You may also have to fill out claim forms for outside visits.

Preferred Provider Organizations (PPO)
Networks of doctors and hospitals created by insurance companies or employers to provide care at a lower cost than traditional insurance. Because PPO is “less managed” than HMO care, the premiums are usually higher. They can also impose restrictions such as pre-existing conditions, exclusions and waiting periods.
Healthcare Coverage for Children

Regular healthcare is important for a child’s well being and physical development. Here are a few programs that provide no-cost or low-cost healthcare for children and pregnant women:

Medi-Cal provides no-cost comprehensive health, dental and vision coverage for children and pregnant women. Eligibility is determined by family size, children’s ages and family income. This program is available to eligible U.S. citizens, nationals and immigrants. For a mail-in application, call toll-free 1-888-747-1222.

*A family whose income is higher than the allowable limits for no-cost Medi-Cal will have a Share of Cost (SOC) based on their income and family size.

The Healthy Families Program provides low-cost health, dental and vision coverage for children who are not eligible for no-cost Medi-Cal. Premiums are $4 to $24 each month with a maximum of $72 per family. Eligibility is determined by family size, children’s ages and family income. This program is available to U.S. citizens, U.S. nationals and “qualified” immigrant children under age 19. For more information and to request a mail-in application, call toll-free 1-888-747-1222.

Healthy Kids provides low-cost health care coverage for uninsured children who are not eligible for no-cost Medi-Cal or Healthy Families in select California Counties. Eligibility varies by county. For more information, visit www.chi4kids.org.

Access for Infants and Mothers (AIM) provides health insurance for uninsured pregnant women up to 60 days post-partum. To qualify, women must be no more than 30 weeks pregnant, California residents, not eligible for no-cost Medi-Cal, uninsured, and have incomes within AIM guidelines. Women with separate maternity deductibles or co-payments over $500 may also qualify. For more information, call toll-free 1-800-433-2611.

Kaiser Permanente Child Health Plan provides low-cost health care coverage for uninsured children who are not eligible for no-cost Medi-Cal or Healthy Families. This program covers children under age 19 who live within Kaiser Permanente’s California service area. Cost varies by county and depends on family size and income. For more information, call toll-free 1-800-255-5053.

CaliforniaKids provides low-cost health care coverage for uninsured children who are not eligible for no-cost Medi-Cal or Healthy Families in select California counties. There are no income limits. For more information, call toll free 1-818-755-9700.

Please see other side for income levels. If family size (number of persons in family) exceeds the family size shown, please call the program(s) for more information.

| Who is eligible? | Children birth through 2 years 9 months of age who:
  - Experience developmental delays
  - Have a diagnosed physical or mental condition that has a high probability of resulting in a developmental delay or
  - Are at high risk for developmental disabilities | Individuals who are eligible for SSI/SSP, or similar types of assistance, and
  - If IHSS is needed for the individual to live safely in his/her home without assistance. |
| What are the income limits? | None | Same as SSI income limits |
| What does it cost? | Nothing | Nothing |
| What are the resource limits? (Are other assets like a car or a house included?) | None | Same as SSI resource limits |
| Do I have to be a legal resident? | No | California resident—yes.
  - Immigrants permanently living legally in the U.S. may be eligible for IHSS. |
| What papers do I need? | Medical records
  - Results of specific diagnostic tests indicating disability | The county worker will fill out forms known as “SOC 293” and “SOC 293a,” which will set out how much time per week you have been allowed for service. Your county worker must give you copies of these forms if you ask for them. |
| Where can I/we apply? | At the Regional Center or the local Special Education Plan Area (SELP A) | Apply at the Department of Social Services, also known as the welfare office. You may be able to initiate the process by phone. To find your local IHSS office call 915-654-1956 or look in the “Resources” section of this manual.
  - Once the application is filed, a home visit will be scheduled. |
| How long does it take to get? | Within 45 days of the child’s referral to the agency:
  - An assessment must be completed
  - An Individual Family Service Plan must be developed to decide upon the services for the family and child. | The application must be processed within 30 days. This includes eligibility determination, the needs assessment and the notice of action. An exception to the 30-day requirement may be made when a disability determination has not been received within that time period. Benefits may be approved back to the date of the initial application regardless of when the assessment is done. |

CHOOSING A HEALTH CARE PLAN AND PROVIDER

CONTENTS

• Choosing a Health Care Plan
• Choosing a Primary Care Provider (PCP)
• Worksheet for Choosing a Provider

HOW TO USE THIS SECTION

• Read the material on choosing a plan.
• Answer the questions by checking the plan handbook or interviewing their Ombudsperson, preferably their Disabilities Coordinator.
• Review questions to ask the Pediatrician or Primary Care Provider.
• Use the worksheet to assess provider’s appropriateness for your child’s unique needs.
• Find a plan and provider that suits your child’s and family’s needs.
CHOOSING A HEALTH CARE PLAN

INTRODUCTION
One of the first steps in your journey is to understand the health care plan that you have. Take time to consider what factors are most important to you and your family. It is very important for you to have your plan’s description of benefits and the list of covered providers. Most descriptions of benefits may seem like a foreign language: difficult to read and impossible to interpret. They may not describe all the available services or list all of the exclusions. Spend some time with your employer or a managed care plan membership service representative to help direct you through the maze. Be sure that the information received from your employer is consistent with the information given by the health plan and provides you with the detail you need. In addition, sometimes there are challenges. Know who to call and what to do when there is a problem.

This document was created to assist families to understand and better use their health care plan. It is broken up into three parts:

- Know Your Family’s Needs
- Know Your Health Care Plan
- Know What To Do If There Is A Problem

KNOW YOUR HEALTH CARE PLAN

Below are some questions you can ask your plan representative to gain a better understanding of your insurance plan. Be sure to know what type of plan you have, for example it might be: Fee for Service (FFS); Health Maintenance Organization (HMO); Point of Service Plan (POS); Preferred Provider Organization (PPO). Ask to speak to the membership/customer service representative. Write down three W's (Who, What and When): the name of the person who you spoke to, their contact information, the date of the contact and their responses to your questions. This may be very, very important at a later date. Feel free to ask for written confirmation.

Know Your Health Care Plan Questions

Who can I talk to at my place of employment to get details about our benefits?

Is there a case manager/care provider in the plan that I can talk with? What is their contact information, including fax number?

Are there any caps on how much can be spent for one person in our family? If yes, what are they?

Are there any caps on how much can be spent on my family? If yes, what are they?

Are there co-payments? If yes, what are they?

Is there a clinic in the plan that specializes in my child’s diagnosis/disability?

Are there classes or informational materials that address parenting and health care issues for my child’s diagnosis/disability?

Which providers and specialists contract with this plan? Where can I find the list with addresses?

Are the therapists and specialists trained in pediatric care?

What if the provider has a long waiting list and my child needs to see someone right away? What is the plan’s policy on the maximum time a patient must wait before they can see someone else maybe outside the plan (30 days)?

What if there are no therapists and/or specialists in the county that are covered by the plan?

Is the plan open to adding my child’s therapists? Who should the therapist call to start the process?

Can my child get direct access to specialists for some services?

Are funds available for transportation?

What hospital(s) are in the plan?

What is the procedure for authorizing urgent or emergency care when we are away from home or traveling out of state?

Are translation services available at the clinics and by phone and how do I access them?

What coverage is offered for equipment and medical supplies?

Where will I get equipment and supplies?

Does the plan cover costs for repairs and replacements for equipment?

Who has to approve my requests for equipment and supplies and what is the process?

How are prescription drugs covered and where can they be obtained?

Are there any restrictions on the drugs that can be prescribed and paid for (formulary)?

If I have a complaint or disagreement, what is the denial process and timeline?

Can we be disenrolled from the plan? On what basis?

Is there an appeal process? What is the contact information?

Tips from California's Patient Advocate: My Complaint for Preferred Provider Organization (PPO)

This page describes what to do if you have a PPO or fee-for-service insurance (this may be different if it is a Blue Cross/Blue Shield PPO).

(This document has been adapted. Please contact: Office of the Patient Advocate (OPA) • 1-866-466-8900 • TTY 1-866-499-0858 • www.opa.ca.gov to get a better rendition of this document, as well as other wonderful resources.)

How to file a complaint with your plan

- Call your plan and ask how to file a complaint.
- Ask if you can file a complaint over the phone.
- Ask how soon the plan will tell you its decision.
- Ask for an expedited review of your complaint if your problem is urgent.

How to file a complaint with the state

- Call the Department of Insurance Consumer Hotline at 1-800-927-4357 between 8am and 5pm, Monday to Friday.
- Be sure to explain if your problem is urgent.

Request an Independent Medical Review (IMR)

- An IMR is a review of your plan's denial of medical treatment. Doctors who are not part of your plan make an independent decision about the denial.
- The plan must do what the IMR decides.
- For information on IMR, visit the Department of Insurance IMR website.
- Call the Department of Insurance Consumer Hotline at 1-800-927-4357 between 8am and 5pm, Monday to Friday.
CHOOSING A PEDIATRICIAN OR PRIMARY CARE PROVIDER

Your child may be seen by several doctors, clinics and hospitals. Ultimately you are the expert on your child and the case manager of your child’s services. Your case manager duties are likely to include choosing a pediatrician, developing a relationship with him/her, evaluating the situation, and maintaining any records that will result from your visits. In developing a relationship, you are looking for someone who will value you as an expert on your child and acknowledge you as a competent partner on the health care team. You are also seeking someone who will accept that your child’s health care needs are only a part of your family’s priorities and that sometimes the family’s needs and concerns may take precedence.

While the primary care provider or clinic will maintain files for their records, you should maintain your own home files. Detailed records keeping in a vital part of your responsibilities. Remember, you have a right to obtain copies of your child’s medical reports and records. Your home files could be as simple as a box full of medical records or as sophisticated as you choose to have it (see following section: “Working in Partnership with Your Provider”). Most importantly, good communication and rapport among your child’s team (you, your child if appropriate, primary health care provider, early intervention team, school personnel) should lead to quality care for your child.

From a family-centered perspective, you want your Primary Care Provider to:

- Help you find and continually update information you need to understand your child’s condition, since it is not temporary and you will be learning about it for a lifetime.

- Not withhold or omit any information concerning the severity or extent of your child’s condition. Also, not to hesitate to use medical terms when necessary.

- Agree to routinely provide you with copies of any medical records and reports.

- Help you to understand the range of possibilities and tell you the worst and best possible prognosis.

- Acknowledge your sense of urgency by responding quickly to requests for medical information, referrals, etc., so that appropriate services can begin or continue.

- Remind you of your child’s strengths from time to time.

- Collaborate with other professionals providing care for your child.

- Take time to talk with you about your concerns.

- Do you see children with special needs in your practice?
- Do you have experience with children who have (describe your child’s disability)?
- Would you be comfortable working in a medical team situation with other doctors who will be seeing my child?
- Can you schedule extra long appointments?
- Who sees your patients when you are not available?
- Which hospital do you use for patients who require hospitalization or hospital tests?
- What are the facilities of this hospital for children and families like mine? If my child were hospitalized, would I be allowed to say with him/her?
- How do you handle a child’s fear, discomfort, or pain when preparing him/her for invasive procedures?
- After you’ve examined my child, can you arrange for one of your staff to watch him/her for a few minutes so we can talk alone?
- Would there be any additional charges for any of these arrangements?

KEEPING TRACK

Managing the unique, complex and multiple needs of your child is sometimes a daunting task. Even though you may have case managers or others who coordinate specific aspects of your child’s care, you are the primary coordinator of all your child’s services. Having a method and a specific notebook to organize information about your child and keeping careful records will help you as well as all of your child’s providers.

Having information and keeping it current is time consuming. Having it available will give a complete and accurate picture of your child that you can provide to teachers, physicians, and others. It is well worth the effort. Here are some tips for getting organized:

- Keep all originals in a safe place in your home file and place only copies in your notebook.
- Fasten all records securely in a three-ring notebook. This will keep the pages from getting separated and out of order should the notebook fall.
- If the notebook becomes too cumbersome, transfer items not needed into your home record. Clean out the home files as needed.
- Keep a log or summary of the records contained in the notebook.
- If you have many records, separate them in a way that makes sense to you. Consider filing them in sections based on type of records or filing them in chronological order.
- Put tabs, with the doctor’s name on them, on reports you know you’ll refer to again (such as operation reports and discharge summaries). If makes finding them easier the next time around.
- Write any personal notes on a copy of the record or a blank sheet of paper. For example, if your child vomits when you give her a certain medication, note this so that your doctor can prescribe an alternative next time.
- If your child is on various medications, keep a list of medications including dosage changes, start date, and discontinue date. Be sure to note any adverse reactions. Do not rely on memory.

HOW TO USE THIS SECTION

• Read the written information so you will understand how to advocate within that system for your child.

• Use the “maps” to determine the next step to take on behalf of your child.

• Use the sample letters as a guide in writing your own letter.

• Keep a record of any phone calls you make.
HOW TO GET YOUR CHILD THE SERVICES HE/SHE NEEDS UNDER:
PRIVATE INSURANCE MANAGED CARE PLANS (HMOs, PPOs)

If your child requires care, treatment or therapy from someone other than the Primary Care Provider (PCP):

• The PCP must approve your request and make a referral; and
• The managed care organization’s (MCO) referral committee will approve or deny the service.

(Managed care frequently limits the use of specialists, treatment and therapy; therefore, it is not unusual to be denied.)

If you and your PCP disagree about your child’s service needs:

• Remember, the first “no” is never the final answer.
• Repeat your request in writing and include documentation and/or additional reasons that support the need for the referral.
• Call your case manager to discuss your perspectives as to what services are needed. See if s/he can help to advocate for your child (i.e., advise you as to what information you could include that might be meaningful to the PCP and support an approval).
• Require that the reasons for the denial be put in writing.
• You might need to change your child’s PCP. This should only be done after careful consideration. Weigh this one incident with past support this provider has shown.

If your PCP approves your request, but the managed care organization says no:

• Remember, the first “no” is never the final answer. Call again another day.
• Request a letter from your child’s PCP to accompany the second request.
• Make sure to point out how services are medically related, how they will benefit your child, and how providing this service will avoid future expenses.
• Contact your case manager and ask her to help you advocate for your child’s special needs (i.e., advise you as to what information you should communicate that might be meaningful to the managed care organization’s committee and support an approval).
• Require the denial rationale be put in writing.
• Contact the medical director of the managed care plan in writing and let him know:
  – The importance of the service;
  – The efforts made to obtain the service;
  – The specifics of the denial of coverage.
State that the grounds of denial are unacceptable and that you are appealing the decision. Give them a deadline for their response to you.

- File a formal grievance with your managed care organization. Review the evidence of coverage and complain through their channels. Keep a record of everyone you talk to, including the date, phone number and a summary of the conversation. It is best to confirm everything in writing, and you may wish to send letters by certified mail. Request all responses in writing.

- If you cannot resolve your grievance through the MCO’s regular channels, call the Department of Managed Health Care HMO Help Center at 888-466-2219 or TDD 877-688-9891. “Subscribers and enrollees who would like to file a complaint against their health plan may call the consumer hotline to register urgent complaints immediately or to obtain a Consumer Complaint Form (“CCF”) when their health plan has not resolved their filed grievance within 30 days or has concluded its consideration of the grievance without resolving it to their satisfaction.” The Department of Managed Health Care will review your situation and confirm that you have tried to settle the issue with your managed care organization. They will send you a complaint form to complete and try to work with you and the MCO to resolve the problem.

 Please note: Section 1368(b)(1)(A) of the Knox-Keene Act states the following regarding emergency care: “…In any case determined by the Department to be a case involving an imminent and serious threat to the health of the patient, including, but not limited to, the potential loss of life, limb or major bodily function, or in any other case where the Department determines that an earlier review is warranted, a subscriber or enrollee shall not be required to complete the grievance process or participate in the process for at least 60 days.” If you think the refusal of a service by the MCO poses a serious threat to the health of your child, file an urgent complaint with the Department of Managed Health Care.

HOW TO GET YOUR CHILD THE SERVICES HE/SHE NEEDS UNDER:
PRIVATE INSURANCE FEE-FOR-SERVICE

When working with your private insurance health plan, it is imperative that you become familiar with your handbook, which will outline the evidence of coverage. Because each plan varies and their terms are so intricate, it is difficult to be specific. The following is a guideline only.

If you and your physician disagree about your child’s service needs:

- Remember, the first “no” is never the final answer.
- Repeat your request in writing and include documentation and/or additional reasons that support the need for the referral.
- Call your case manager to discuss your perspectives as to what services are needed. See if s/he can help to advocate for your child (i.e., advise you as to what information you could include that might be meaningful to the physician and support an approval).
- Require the denial rationale be put in writing.
- You might need to change your child’s physician. This should only be done after careful consideration. Weigh this one incident with past support this doctor has shown.

If your physician approves your request, but the insurance company says no:

- Remember the first “no” is never the final answer.
- Request a letter from your child’s physician to accompany the second request.
- Make sure to point out how services will benefit your child and will avoid future expenses.
- Contact your case manager and ask him to help you advocate for your child’s special needs (i.e., advise you as to what information you should communicate that might be meaningful to the managed care organization’s committee and support an approval).
- Require the denial rationale be put in writing.
- Contact the medical director of the insurance plan in writing and let her know:
  - The importance of the service;
  - The efforts made to obtain the services;
  - The specifics of the denial of coverage.

State that the grounds of denial are unacceptable and that you are appealing the decision. Give them a deadline for their response to you.

- Use the insurance company’s formal appeal process. Keep a record of everyone you talk to, including the date, phone number and a summary of the conversation. It is best to confirm everything in writing, and you may wish to send letters by certified mail. Request all responses in writing.
If you cannot resolve your grievance through the insurance company’s regular channels or your agent/broker, call the California Department of Insurance’s (CDI) Consumer Services Division at (800) 927-HELP. Individuals who would like to file a complaint against their health plan may call the consumer hotline to register urgent complaints or to obtain a “Request for Assistance” (RFA).

Your RFA should contain your name, complete address and day phone number, the full name of the insurance company; the name and address of the agent or broker if appropriate; and a short description of your problem. This information is necessary for CDI’s review and is within the powers and duties expressed in the California Insurance Code, Section 12921.3. It is not mandatory that you furnish the requested information. However, failure to do so may delay or even prevent CDI to be of assistance.

Please include documents (preferable copies) related to your problem such as the declaration page of your policy or certificate, canceled checks, letters or correspondence. If you cannot get copies of documents made, and you need to send the original documents, it is suggested that you send them certified mail. The more complete the information sent to CDI, the quicker they can identify the issues and begin the review. You may inspect the information you submit at any time as long as the department’s file is maintained. All original documents will be returned to you upon completion of CDI’s handling.

The time it takes to handle a request for assistance can vary greatly, depending on how complex the matter is. However, your request will be handled as quickly as possible.

HOW TO GET YOUR CHILD THE SERVICES HE/SHE NEEDS UNDER: MEDI-CAL MANAGED CARE PLANS

Please note: Federal law exempts children with complex medical conditions from mandatory enrollment in Medi-Cal Managed Care if he/she is receiving treatment from a doctor who is not part of the local initiative or commercial plan. Exemption is not automatic and must be requested by you.

- Request a “Medi-Cal Managed Care Medical Exemption” by calling 1-800-430-4263.

- Complete the form and have your current provider sign it.

- If your child meets the criteria and you are having trouble with this process, contact the Ombudsman office at 1-888-452-8609. You can also call the Health Consumer Alliance at 1-888-HMO-2219 for help.

If your child requires care, treatment or therapy from someone other than the Primary Care Provider (PCP):

- The PCP must approve your request and make a referral; and

- The managed care organization’s referral committee will approve or deny the service.

(Managed care frequently limits the use of specialists, treatment and therapy; therefore, it is not unusual to be denied. However, you can challenge these denials.)

If you and your PCP disagree about your child’s service needs:

- Remember, the first “no” is never the final answer.

- Repeat your request in writing and include documentation and/or additional reasons that support the need for the referral. Ask that your written request be made part of your medical record.

- Call your case manager to discuss your perspectives as to what services are needed. See if s/he can help to advocate for your child (i.e., advise you as to what information you could include that might be meaningful to the PCP and support an approval).

- Require the denial rationale be put in writing.

- You might need to change your child’s PCP. This should only be done after careful consideration. Weigh this one incident with past support this doctor has shown.

If your PCP approves your request, but the managed care organization says no:

- Remember the first “no” is never the final answer.

- Request a letter from your child’s PCP to accompany the second request.

- Make sure to point out how services will benefit your child and will avoid future expenses.
• Contact your case manager and ask her to help you advocate for your child’s special needs (i.e., advise you as to what information you should communicate that might be meaningful to the managed care organization’s committee and support an approval).

• Require the denial rationale be put in writing. This is a federal law.

• You can request a State Fair Hearing by calling the Department of Social Services at (800) 952-5253 within 90 days. This can be done even if you have filed a formal grievance with your managed care organization. Medical services should be continued until a fair hearing decision is reached if you request a hearing within 10 days of the denial.

• You can also file a formal grievance with your managed care organization. Review the summary of coverage and complain through their channels. Keep a record of everyone you talk to, including the date, phone number and a summary of the conversation. It is best to confirm everything in writing, and you may wish to send letters by certified mail. Remember, services will not continue by filing a grievance alone. You must also file a fair hearing.

• You may call the Ombudsman office at 1-888-452-8609 for assistance or clarification.

• If you cannot resolve your grievance through the MCO’s regular channels, call the Department of Managed Health Care at 1-888-466-2219, or TDD 1-877-688-9891.

PLEASE NOTE: Depending on the Medi-Cal managed care plan you are enrolled in, the final road of appeal may be either through a State Fair Hearing or through the Department of Managed Health Care. Both options are included here for information purposes. Consult your MCO for clarification.

HOW TO GET YOUR CHILD THE SERVICES HE/SHE NEEDS UNDER:
MEDI-CAL (FEE-FOR-SERVICE)

(We thank Protection and Advocacy Inc. and their manual “Medi-Cal: Service Rights and Entitlement Program Affecting Californians with Disabilities” for outlining the Medi-Cal grievance process. It is a valuable resource. You can call PAI at 800-776-5746 and request a copy. There is no charge, but there is a suggested donation amount.)

Federal law prohibits mandatory enrollment of children with special health care needs in Medi-Cal Managed Care.

If your child needs specialized care, treatment or therapy:

• The physician must approve your request and submit a treatment authorization request (TAR);

• Medi-Cal will return the TAR form with approval/denial and the reason for the denial.

If Medi-Cal denies your treatment authorization request:

• Medi-Cal must send you a notice of action when the TAR is denied with (1) explanation of the denial; (2) the regulation on which the denial is based, and (3) information about your rights to appeal.

• Remember, the first “no” is never the final answer.

• If you are currently receiving services, Medi-Cal must provide ten days’ advance notice before discontinuing or reducing services.

• Request a fair hearing/appeal during the ten-day period, and Medi-Cal must continue services until your fair hearing. You can appeal by filling out the back of the Notice of Action (NOA) or by writing directly to:

  Office of the Chief Administrative Law Judge
  Administrative Adjudications Division
  Department of Social Services
  744 P Street
  Sacramento, CA 95814

• You have 90 days to file an appeal. However, if you did not receive the notice or the NOA does not explain the reason for denial, including a citation of the applicable regulation, the 90-day limit does not apply. The timeline starts when you receive the form with the appropriate citation.

Fair Hearing Process:

• As soon as you receive acknowledgement of your appeal request, write to the Medi-Cal office that denied the TAR.

• In this letter you can ask for the specific regulations that relate to the denied service/equipment and any Field Instruction Notices (FIN) and Policy Statements which address whether the type of request is covered under Medi-Cal and what medical necessity justification/documentation is required for the
TAR. If the Medi-Cal office does not supply you with the information, you can call the 800 number on the hearing request acknowledgement and ask them what you need to do to get the information.

- Ask your doctor to review the material and help provide an explanation in layman’s language.
- You can seek the services of an advocate to assist you in gathering the appropriate documentation and preparing for the fair hearing. See the “Resources” section for suggestions.

HOW TO GET YOUR CHILD THE SERVICES HE/ SHE NEEDS UNDER: CALIFORNIA CHILDREN SERVICES (CCS)

Eligibility/Provision of Services

Whether you have applied for CCS services or are already a client, you will be notified in writing if your eligibility/provision of service has been denied, reduced or stopped. This decision is called a “Notice of Action” (NOA). A NOA must be sent when:

- Medical or financial eligibility is denied
- Request for new service or benefit is denied
- Medical or financial eligibility is discontinued
- Services currently being provided are terminated or modified (except when the change is recommended by the doctor providing medical supervision or when the termination or modification is within the time limits of the authorization for services)

Note: A NOA is not sent if the service or benefit is a Medi-Cal benefit. If you feel that Medi-Cal wrongly denied a benefit, refer to the Medi-Cal section in this manual for assistance with their appeal process.

There are two avenues to appeal a NOA decision:

1. Formal appeal process (Section 1 below)
2. Expert evaluation in lieu of formal appeal for physical and/or occupational therapy services (Section 2 below)

Section 1 [Formal Appeal Process] — If you disagree with the decision in a CCS NOA:

- Remember, the first “no” is never the final answer.

- The NOA will contain instructions for the appeal process. Call the CCS number listed on the NOA. Perhaps the problem can be resolved with a phone call. Make sure to keep of a log of any phone conversation and request confirmation of the conversation in writing if the resolution is different from that on the NOA.

- If you cannot resolve the problem, request an appeal within 30 days of the date of the NOA. Be sure to clearly state why you disagree with the CCS action and what action you want CCS to take. If CCS is already providing services to your child, ask that these services continue while your appeal is being decided.

- The first level appeal is reviewed at the county CCS level and must be completed within 21 days of receipt of your appeal.

- If your first appeal is denied, you have the right to request a fair hearing within 14 days of the date of CCS’s written decision. Be sure to include a copy of the first level appeal decision in your fair hearing request. If you need an interpreter, one will be provided for you at no cost – you must ask for the interpreter when you make your fair hearing request.
Section 2 [Expert Evaluation in Lieu of Formal Appeal] — Applicable to physical/occupational therapy services provided through the CCS Medical Therapy Program (MTP):

- Remember, the first “no” is never the final answer.
- Request a second opinion. You will be able to choose the doctor from a list of three experts that CCS will provide.
- The second opinion is considered final. There is no recourse to further appeal.

There are timelines for all actions. The “Resolutions of Complaints and Appeals by CCS Clients or Applicants” (California Code of Regulations, Title 22, Chapter 13, Sections 42700-42720) describes the formal due process system. You can get that by calling your local CCS office.

These are guidelines only. For full information about CCS grievance procedure, call your CCS office.

HOW TO GET YOUR CHILD THE SERVICES HE/SHE NEEDS UNDER: REGIONAL CENTER (DEPARTMENT OF DEVELOPMENTAL SERVICES – DDS)

Under the Lanterman Act the regional centers are mandated to assist families in obtaining medical care and services when it is part of the Individual Program Plan (IPP):

4685C1 SUPPORT SERVICES
THE DEPARTMENT AND REGIONAL CENTERS SHALL GIVE VERY HIGH PRIORITY TO THE DEVELOPMENT AND EXPANSION OF SERVICES AND SUPPORTS DESIGNED TO ASSIST FAMILIES THAT ARE CARING FOR THEIR CHILDREN AT HOME, WHEN THAT IS THE PREFERRED OBJECTIVE IN THE INDIVIDUAL PROGRAM PLAN. THIS ASSISTANCE MAY INCLUDE, BUT IS NOT LIMITED TO, SPECIALIZED MEDICAL AND DENTAL CARE, SPECIAL TRAINING FOR PARENTS, INFANT STIMULATION PROGRAMS, RESPITE FOR PARENTS, HOMEMAKER SERVICES, CAMPING, DAY CARE, SHORT TERM OUT-OF-HOME CARE, CHILD CARE, COUNSELING, MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES, BEHAVIOR MODIFICATION PROGRAMS, SPECIAL ADAPTIVE EQUIPMENT SUCH AS WHEELCHAIRS, HOSPITAL BEDS, COMMUNICATION DEVICES, AND OTHER NECESSARY APPLIANCES AND SUPPLIES, AND ADVOCACY TO ASSIST PERSONS IN SECURING INCOME MAINTENANCE, EDUCATIONAL SERVICES AND OTHER BENEFITS TO WHICH THEY ARE ENTITLED.

If your child needs specialized care, treatment or therapy and you think it is a service you should receive from the Regional Center:

- Make a written request to your Case Manager, clarifying exactly what is needed. This is preferable to a phone call as it will expedite the process. Ask for an Individual Program Plan (IPP) meeting.

- Put requests for those items or services which are related to your child’s developmental disability in your Individual Program Plan (IPP).

- The Regional Center is payer of last resort. Included in your request should be letters of denial from other payers (such as your insurance company) as well as prescriptions from doctors for equipment. Always keep copies.

- If you request that your child’s IPP be reviewed, it should happen within 30 days of your request.

If your case manager cannot approve your request at the IPP meeting:

- Request a second IPP meeting within 15 days of the original meeting. Ask for a regional center “decision-maker” to be in attendance.

- There can be more meetings regarding your request IF you agree to them.

If your request is denied:

- The regional center must send you a written denial within 5 days of the second IPP meeting which contains the reasons for the denial, the legal basis, and notice of your right to appeal.

- Request a written denial of your request and an application for appeal.
- File your fair hearing request.
- You can call your Area Board or Protection and Advocacy for assistance in the process.

Fair hearing process (this process may change due to a proposed bill which would add a mediation process):

- An informal hearing must be held within 10 days of the date the Regional Center receives your request. The notice should include your rights to be present at all proceedings, to present oral and written evidence, to confront and cross-examine witnesses, to appear in person with counsel or other representatives of your choosing; your rights to records and to an interpreter; available advocacy assistance; proposed date and time.

- If you are dissatisfied with the results of the informal hearing, you have a right to a fair hearing. File a written request.

- You should receive notice within 20 days. The notice should include your rights to be present at all proceedings, to present oral and written evidence, to confront and cross-examine witnesses, to appear in person with counsel or other representatives of your choosing; your rights to records and to an interpreter; available advocacy assistance; proposed date and time. The fair hearing will be held at a reasonably convenient time and place for you and your authorized representative.

- Within 10 days of the concluding day of the hearing, the hearing officer shall render a decision, which is final.

- You can appeal any final administrative decision to a court of competent jurisdiction within 90 days.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR WRITING LETTERS

What to include:

1. It is best to address your letter to a specific person instead of a general department or to the managed care plan itself, for example:

   Dr. John Smith
   Medical Director
   ABC Health Plan

2. Be sure to show your child's name and chart or account number within the plan, your address and phone number.

3. Begin your letter with a brief statement of who you are and why you are writing.

4. If you are requesting a written explanation of the reasons for denial, state that you have reviewed your contract and can’t find a valid reason for the denial in your policy. Ask for specifics, not just a response that states “not a covered benefit” or “not medically necessary.”

5. If you are appealing a denial, state your understanding of the denial and explain why you feel the services are necessary and/or should not be denied. Use any articles, research and other supporting professional opinions.

6. Include dates and names of those with whom you have already spoken.

7. Ask for a response (a letter, meeting or phone call) within a reasonable deadline. Your coverage may have specific time frames that apply to appeals; be aware of appropriate processes.

8. Have someone proofread your letters.

9. Keep a copy for your personal records.

10. Send copies to as many persons as you can, for example:
   - Your child's Primary Care Provider or case manager
   - Your employer's human resources department (if your coverage is provided through your employer)
   - Membership services representative of your health plan
   - Any advocacy groups that have supported you
   - Your state or local politicians, if the first responses are not satisfactory

Telephone Number

Date

Full Name of Person to whom you're writing
Title
Name of Hospital/Medical Group/Agency
Street Address
City, State, Zip Code

Dear (name of person, use title and last name),

Opening paragraph. In this paragraph explain who you are, give the full name of your child, and date of birth, then very briefly, explain the reason you are writing.

Paragraph Two. In this paragraph explain what you would like to have happen or what you would like to see changed. You may briefly say what you would not like, but spend most of this paragraph saying what you want.

Paragraph Three. Say what type of response you want. For instance, do you need to meet with anyone, do you want a return letter, or a phone call?

Closing Paragraph. Finally, give your daytime telephone number and let the person you are writing know that you expect to hear from him/her soon (or give a date, i.e., "by the 15th").

Sincerely yours,

SAMPLE LETTER II

January 5, 2012

Patient: Judy Jones
I.D. #: 555-44-3333
Employee: Jasper Jones
Group: Acme Associates
Claim Number: 026439782

XYZ Insurance Company
555 Insurance Company Plaza
Anytown, USA Zip Code

Dear Insurance Company Representative:

Thank you for reviewing our appeal of the denial for a Touch Talker for our daughter, Judy Jones. We were dismayed, however, to receive a letter upholding the previous denial dated December 10, 1999 (see the enclosed copy), and would like to ask that you reconsider this decision. We understand that the denial of this request is based on the premise that the Touch Talker is not considered a prosthesis under this plan and it does not meet the Plan's definition of durable medical equipment. Since electronic communication devices are new in the medical field, some insurance companies have not yet been made aware of the medical nature of the devices or of the function they serve.

Judy is a nine year-old girl with cerebral palsy. Her larynx is non-functional for speech due to cerebral palsy, and this condition cannot be surgically corrected. The Touch Talker would serve to replace this nonfunctional organ, the larynx. Page 32 of the policy book states as covered items “...a prosthetic appliance replaces a limb or organ ...” The Touch Talker seems to clearly meet your requirements for a prosthesis.

Page 22 of the policy book describes "durable medical equipment" as equipment that:

1) “... can stand repeated use.”

The Touch Talker can withstand repeated use. Because many people who use the Touch Talker do not have total voluntary control of their muscles, the Touch Talker is built of a highly durable material called Kydex, which is intended to withstand rough treatment.

2) “…is primarily and customarily used to serve a medical purpose.”

As stated above, the Touch Talker serves to replace the function of the larynx, which is non-functional. It is primarily and customarily used for this purpose. This is documented in the enclosed letter from Judy's pediatrician.

3) “…is not useful in the absence of illness or injury.”

The Touch Talker provides a voice to people who cannot speak. It does not have functions that would benefit a person who has functional use of his or her speech mechanisms.
4) “... can be used in the home.”

The Touch Talker may be used in any setting, including the home.

It is clear that the Touch Talker satisfies the above conditions for coverage of durable medical equipment. Furthermore, I understood from my conversation with Mr. William Wilson of your company, that our request was denied because the Touch Talker was considered to be a computer. The Touch Talker is definitely a medical appliance, which replaces a malfunctioning body part.

In the general information section of our policy, on page 42, “medical necessity” is defined as: “A medical condition requiring medical services and treatment. Such services and treatment must be in keeping with generally accepted medical practices for the diagnosis and condition of the patient.”

Enclosed is a prescriptive letter from Judy’s attending physician, Dr. Penelope Perkins, certifying the medical necessity of this equipment for Judy. Judy has significant speech apraxia that can be specifically habilitated with an oral communicator. Without this device, should Judy find herself in an emergency situation, she has no other means of conveying her needs. Without a means of communicating a medical problem, it could go undetected until it became more serious, requiring more extensive treatment, and ultimately greater expense to the insurance company.

Thank you for your attention to this appeal. I trust that with this clarification of the Touch Talker communication device, you will see that it should definitely be a covered expense under our plan.

Enclosed please find copies of all correspondence to date related to this request. Please contact us if you have any further questions.

Sincerely,

Jane Jones      Jasper Jones

GLOSSARY

HEALTH CARE DEFINITIONS

These definitions have been adapted from the following sources:
• PASSPORT: Knowing the Language (produced by "Families as Participants: Working Within a Managed Care System", a project funded by the US Maternal and Child Health Bureau)
• "Alphabet Soup: Health Care Definitions for Children with Special Health Needs" and other information sheets by Family Voices
• “The ABCs of Managed Care”, a report from the Egg Harbor Family Summit
• “Managed Care for Children with Special Health Care Needs: Physician Case Management Model” by Subcommittee on the Managed Care Initiative of Children’s Special Health Care Services Advisory Committee.
• “Understanding Medi-Cal: The Basics”, published by the Medi-Cal Policy Institute

ACCESS:
Ability to receive services from a health care system or provider.

ACCOUNTABLE:
There is a mechanism to provide information concerning the performance and utilization of the system of services.

ACUTE CARE:
Medical services provided after an accident or for a disease, usually for a short time.

ADVERSE SELECTION:
Occurs when those joining a health plan have higher medical costs than the general population; if too many enrollees have higher than average medical costs, the health plan experiences adverse selection.

ALLOWABLE EXPENSES:
The necessary, customary and reasonable expenses that an insurer will cover.

AMBULATORY CARE:
Medical care provided on an out-patient (non-hospital) basis.

ANNIVERSARY DATE:
The date on which a health plan or insurer contract with an employer or an individual subscriber is renewed each year. It is the date when premium costs and benefits are most likely to change. It may be preceded by an "open enrollment period," when employees have the option to switch health plans.

ANNUAL MAXIMUM LIMITS OR CAPS:
The limit an insurance plan sets on a given service. It may be a certain number of visits or a dollar amount. If a person needs more of a given service than is allowed by the limits in a plan, one will need to request an exception.

APEAL:
To formally request a health plan to change a decision.

ASSISTIVE TECHNOLOGY DEVICE:
Under IDEA, any item, piece of equipment, or product system, whether acquired commercially off the shelf, modified, or customized, that is used to increase, maintain, or improve the functional capabilities of a child with a disability.

ASSISTIVE TECHNOLOGY SERVICE:
Under IDEA, any service that directly assists a child with a disability in the selection, acquisition, or use of an assistive technology device.

AVERAGE LENGTH OF STAY:
Measure used by hospitals to determine the average number of days patients spend in their facilities. A managed care firm will often assign a length of stay based on standards of care to patients when they enter a hospital and will monitor them to see that they don't exceed it.

BAD FAITH:
Unreasonable refusal by a health plan or insurer to pay a valid claim which can be remedied in a civil suit.
BALANCE BILLING:
The practice of billing a patient for any portion of health care charges that are not “covered” (paid for) by health insurance. The circumstances under which balance billing is allowed are usually spelled out in providers’ contracts with plans.

BASIC BENEFITS:
A set of “basic health services” specified in your member handbook and those services required under applicable federal and state laws and regulations.

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH CARE FIRM:
Specialized managed care organizations, focusing on mental health and substance abuse benefits, which they term “behavioral health care.” These firms offer employers and public agencies a managed mental health and substance abuse benefit. Almost none existed 10 years ago, but they are now a large industry.

BENEFICIARY:
The patient (your child) or family who receives the "benefits" or services from health insurance.

BENEFITS or BENEFIT PACKAGE:
The health care services covered by a health plan or health insurance company, under the terms of its member contract.

CAPACITY:
Ability of a (health) organization to provide necessary health services.

CAPITATION:
Method of payment for health services in which the insurer pays providers fixed amounts for each person served regardless of the type and number of services used. Some HMOs pay monthly capitation fees to doctors, often referred to as a per member per month amount.

CARE COORDINATION:
The process of having all care needs coordinated by one person with an emphasis on maximizing a family's capabilities to manage their child's needs and provide quality care without duplication or inappropriate usage.

CASE MANAGEMENT PROGRAM:
Special programs now offered by many insurance companies, particularly for individuals who require high-cost care or have a chronic condition. Under such a program, a case manager is assigned to oversee a given member's health needs. Case managers may arrange alternative benefits within or outside the plan. Contact your plan to find out if you are eligible and how it works.

CATEGORICAL:
Designates persons eligible for assistance because they fall into certain welfare groups or categories (Aged, Blind, Disabled).

CERTIFICATE OF INSURANCE:
A description of health benefits included in a health plan, usually given to insured members by the employer or group.

CHILD WITH A DISABILITY:
Under IDEA, a child with mental retardation, hearing impairments (including deafness), speech or language impairments, visual impairments (including blindness), emotional disturbance, orthopedic impairments, autism, traumatic brain injury, other health impairments, or specific learning disabilities who needs special education and related services.

CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL HEALTH CARE NEEDS:
Those children who have or at increased risk for chronic physical, developmental, behavioral or emotional conditions and who also require health and related services of a type or amount beyond what is required by children generally.

CLAIM:
The documentation of a medical service that was provided to a covered patient by a doctor, hospital, laboratory, diagnostic service or other medical professional. In managed care, claims are not necessary (See Capitation and Co-payment definitions.)

CLINICIAN:
A term that is often used to describe all types of medical professionals who care for patients--doctor, nurse, physicians' assistant, therapist, etc.

CLINICAL STANDARDS:
The care guide used by health plans and providers in making decisions about medical necessity.

CO-PAYMENT (or CO-INSURANCE):
The portion of charges paid by the patient for medical and hospital services, after any deductible has been paid. Indemnity plans typically require a co-payment to be a percent of the charge for the service (for example, 20%). The amount may vary based on the type of service, when the service is received (for example, within a certain number of days of an emergency), or where the service is received (outpatient versus in-patient). In managed care plans, the co-payment is usually a small fixed amount regardless of the cost of the service.

COBRA (Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act) PL.99-272:
A federal law that provides the opportunity for individuals to continue the same insurance coverage for 18-36 months after they lose their jobs or for covered dependents to continue coverage after the death of the insured. The individual is responsible for paying the full insurance premium. There may also be language in the policy on provisions for continuing the same coverage. The Insurance Commissioner in your state or your employer may offer information on your rights for continuation. Consumer Information and Assistance Line is 1-800-027-4357

COLLABORATIVE CARE:
The role of families as primary decision makers and caregivers is acknowledged and supported when the health financing system pays for services that support this role. Family participation in the allocation of health resources is achieved when the parent is recognized as primary decision maker in the development of individualized plans of care.

COMMUNITY-BASED:
The system of care responds to the needs identified by the community and draws from the community to address needs. Services are provided in or near the home community to the extent possible.

COMMUNITY RATING:
An insurance practice of pooling people within a geographic area and charging everyone a set premium for a set benefit package without considering their individual health status.

CONCURRENT REVIEW:
A managed care technique in which a representative of a managed care firm continuously reviews the charts of hospitalized patients to determine whether they are staying too long and if the course of treatment is appropriate.

CONTINUITY OF CARE:
The degree to which the care of a patient from the onset of illness until its completion is continuous; that is, without interruption.

CONTINUUM OF CARE:
A range of medical, nursing treatments, and social services in a variety of settings that provides services most appropriate to the level of care required. For example, a hospital may offer services ranging from nursery to a hospice.

COORDINATION OF BENEFITS:
The process for how benefits will be applied if you have more than one health plan. Regulations on coordination of benefits may exist within your state or your insurance plan may describe how such coordination should happen. Usually one plan is designated to pay all claims first and the residual bills are the responsibility of the secondary carrier. These provisions are to prevent individuals from collecting more than once for the same medical charge.

CO-PAYMENT:
A cost-sharing arrangement in which the member pays, to the provider, a specified amount for a specific service.

COST SHIFTING:
A phenomenon occurring in the US health care system in which providers, hospitals or health care centers are less than adequately reimbursed for their costs and subsequently raise their prices to other payers in an effort to recover costs. Low reimbursement rates from government health care programs often cause providers to raise prices for medical care to private insurance carriers.

COST CONTAINMENT:
An attempt to reduce the high costs surrounding the allocation and consumption of health care. These costs may be due to inappropriately used services and from care that can be provided in less costly settings without harming the patient.

COVERAGE:
Agreed upon set of health services that a plan will pay for and/or provide.

CREDENTIALING:
The process of verifying a physician’s (or other provider’s) credentials to participate as a provider in a health care plan. Criteria for credentialing vary from plan to plan, but examples of typical credentialing requirements for physicians include state licensure and admitting privileges at plan hospitals, and may include other accreditation or certification requirements.

CROSSOVER:
Refers to a claim that has been processed and paid in part by Medicare and then processed by Medi-Cal for those with dual eligibility.
CURRENT PROCEDURAL TECHNOLOGY (CPT):
A set of codes developed by the American Medical Association that describes medical procedures for billing. Each item submitted by your provider to an insurance company for payment must be listed by code on the bill.

CUSTODIAL CARE:
Care provided primarily to assist a patient in meeting the activities of daily living, but not care requiring skilled nursing services.

CUSTOMARY AND REASONABLE:
Refers to a fee that falls within a common range of community fees.

DEDUCTIBLE:
The amount that you must pay out-of-pocket for covered medical care before the benefits of the coverage begin. Check what this amount is per family member. There may also be a total family limit. Deductible amounts vary a great deal from policy to policy. Deductibles are usually set as an annual amount.

DIAGNOSIS-RELATED GROUPS (DRGs):
Method of reimbursing providers based on the medical diagnosis for each patient. Hospitals receive a set amount determined in advance based on length of time patients with a given diagnosis are likely to stay in the hospital. Also called prospective payment system.

DOCUMENTATION:
Written records relating to your family's medical care and insurance. You may need detailed records to support your case if you disagree with your insurer.

DUAL-ELIGIBLES:
People who are eligible for both Medicaid (called Medi-Cal in California) and Medicare. In such cases, payments for any services covered by Medicare are made before any payments are made by the Medicaid program.

DURABLE MEDICAL EQUIPMENT (DME):
Necessary medical equipment that is not disposable: for example, wheelchairs, walkers, ventilators, commodes.

EARLY AND PERIODIC SCREENING, DIAGNOSIS AND TREATMENT PROGRAM (EPSDT):
Mandatory Medicaid benefits and services for Medicaid-eligible children and adolescents under age 21; designed to ensure children's access to early and comprehensive preventive health care and treatment. State Medicaid programs must provide EPSDT benefits.

EFFECTIVE DATE:
The date on which coverage under a health plan or insurance contract begins.

EMERGENCY CARE:
The immediate care that is necessary when a child has a condition, illness, or injury that is life-threatening or would significantly impair his/her health.

EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT (ERISA):
A federal law that establishes uniform standards for employer-sponsored benefit plans. Because of court decision, the law effectively prohibits states from experimenting with alternative health-financing arrangements without waivers from Congress.

EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTION:
The amount of money an employer pays toward the health benefit plans of its employees usually through a payroll deduction. The employer may pay the same fixed number of dollars toward every plan it offers to its employees ("an equal-dollar contribution"); it may pay a fixed percentage of the premium for every plan offered ("equal-percentage"); or it may adjust its contribution in other ways.

ENROLLEE:
Person (consumer) who is covered under a health insurance plan, whether fee-for-service or managed care.

ENROLLMENT AREA:
The geographical area within which a health plan member must reside in order to be eligible for coverage. Most HMOs place a limit on the length of time members (except students) can live outside the enrollment area each year and still be covered.

Administered by the U.S. Department of Labor, ERISA regulates employer-sponsored pension and insurance plans for employees.

EVIDENCE OF COVERAGE:
The written document provided by a health plan to an enrollee that describes exactly what services are covered and under what conditions. Providing such a document is required by law, and the document...
describes the obligations of the plan toward the member and the member’s responsibilities as an enrollee.

EXCEPTION TO POLICY:
A plan (public or private) can choose a different method of treatment, usually after agreement among the patient, care coordinator, and/or primary provider.

EXPLANATION OF BENEFITS:
The statement from your insurance plan that itemizes the actions taken on claims that have been submitted.

EXCLUSION:
A treatment or service that is not covered by a policy.

EXPERIENCE RATING:
An insurance practice of setting premiums based on previous use of health services and health status. An employer whose employees have a high use of services will pay higher rates. This practice generally discriminates against people with disabilities or chronic illness.

EXPERIMENTAL TREATMENT:
Medical treatment not usually covered by insurance companies or public programs because its efficacy is considered unproven. Insurance companies or public programs may reject claims when they decide that the treatment is experimental. Insurers may rely on an internal medical review, consultation with outside experts, or a combination of these and other means. Articles in the current medical literature may influence decision. Individuals have won claims by proving that other insurance companies have paid for the treatment in question or that the treatment has been beneficial in other ways.

FAMILY CENTERED CARE:
Health care delivery and systems that are based on the concerns, priorities and resources of the family, recognizing that the family is the constant in the child's life and the child's best advocate. Parent-professional partnerships are facilitated in family centered practices.

FEDERALLY QUALIFIED:
An HMO that has met certain federal standards regarding financial soundness, quality assurance, member services, marketing and provider contracts can be federally qualified. HMOs that are not federally qualified are still subject to federal and state regulations and requirements intended to protect consumers and providers and ensure quality of care.

FEES-FOR-SERVICE:
Traditional health insurance, allowing consumer to choose providers and services, often with a deductible and co-payment. Also known as indemnity coverage.

FIRST-DOLLAR COVERAGE:
A health insurance policy with no required deductible.

FORMULARY:
A list of prescription drugs and their recommended doses that have been selected by a health plan, insurer or group of doctors as the best choices in terms of effectiveness and value, among the many possible options for a given condition. Formulary drugs may be recommended or required as a condition of HMO prescription drug coverage (unless individual circumstances make a different drug a more appropriate choice for the patient). Formularies are frequently changed based on cost and availability.

GATEKEEPER:
A term given to a primary care provider in a managed care organization network who controls patient access to medical specialists, services and equipment.

GENERIC MEDICINES:
Medications that do not carry a brand name, but contain the same ingredients. Usually less expensive.

GRACE PERIOD:
A specified period immediately following a premium due date, during which payment can be made to continue the policy in force without interruption. States may have laws requiring health insurance policies to allow a set number of days of "grace."

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE:
Defined process in a health plan for consumers or providers to use when there is disagreement about a plan's services, billings or general procedures.

GROUP PRACTICE:
The provision of health care services by a group of physicians formally organized in a business entity that shares equipment, records and personnel in the provision of patient care and in business management.

GUARANTEE RENEWABLE:
An insurance contract that an insurer cannot terminate, providing the insured pays the required premiums in a timely manner. With these contracts, insurers have the right to raise premiums but only for an entire class of policyholders.
GUARANTEED ISSUE:
An insurance contract that is issued regardless of prior medical history. Small employers (between 3-50 employees) cannot be refused coverage because of the medical history of one or more employees. Some individual plans are available on a Guaranteed Issue basis, although premiums are higher.

HEALTH CARE FINANCING
ADMINISTRATION (HCFA):
Federal agency that oversees all aspects of financing for Medicare and also oversees the Federal Office of Prepaid Health Care Operations and Oversight.

HEALTH INSURANCE PURCHASING
COOPERATIVE (HIPC):
A group of employers and individuals functioning as an insurance broker to purchase health coverage, certify health plans, manage premiums and enrollment and provide consumers with buying information. The larger group may be able to negotiate for lower premiums and/or more comprehensive benefits than smaller companies or individuals. Also called health insurance purchasing group, health plan purchasing cooperative or health insurance purchasing corporation (See Managed Competition definition.)

HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATION
(HMO):
An organized health care system responsible for financing and delivering health care to an enrolled population.

HEALTH SCREENING:
A method used by some insurers and health plans to determine whether applicants are likely to create high medical costs, either because they are already sick or because they are likely to have a costly illness in the future. Health screening is used to detect pre-existing medical conditions and to determine whether the applicant is at risk for illness because of factors like excessive weight, smoking or a past history drug abuse.

HEALTHY FAMILIES:
California’s State Children’s Health Insurance
Program to fund health coverage for uninsured children who are not eligible for Medi-Cal.

HEALTH PLAN EMPLOYER DATA AND INFORMATION SET (HEDIS):
System for determining the quality of a health plan’s services and outcomes, based on certain data. HEDIS data, information and guidance about children are limited.

HIGH RISK INSURANCE POOLS:
State programs that enable people with health problems to join together to purchase health insurance; even with subsidies, premium rates are high because pool members are high risk.

HOME AND COMMUNITY-BASED WAIVERs:
Medicaid waiver that allows states to offer an alternative health care package for people who would otherwise require nursing home or hospital care.

HOSPICE SERVICES:
Services to provide care to the terminally ill and their families.

HOSPITAL DAY:
A term to describe any 24-hour period commencing at 12:00 am or 12:00 pm, whichever is used by a hospital to determine a hospital day, during which a patient receives hospital services at the hospital.

ICP-9:
A numerical system for medical conditions and procedures that is used for billing, research and statistical purposes. For example, a specific diagnosis like cleft lip and palate has a unique code.

INDEMNITY HEALTH INSURANCE:
Usually a fee-for-service health plan that reimburses
physicians and other providers for health services furnished to plan enrollees.

INDIVIDUAL (or INDEPENDENT) PRACTICE
ASSOCIATION (IPA):
Association of physicians and other providers,
including hospitals, who contract with an HMO to provide services to enrollees, but usually still see non-HMO patients and patients from other HMOs.

INDIVIDUALIZED EDUCATION PROGRAM
(IEP):
Under IDEA, a written education plan for a school-aged child that is the student’s primary education document and is developed by a team including the child’s parents.

INDIVIDUALIZED FAMILY SERVICE PLAN
(IFSP):
Under IDEA, the planning document used for children under three years of age, and their families.

INDIVIDUAL PROGRAM PLAN (IPP):
Under the Lanterman Act, the program plan developed by the responsible regional center, the developmentally disabled person, and the person’s parents, legal guardian, or conservator.
INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES EDUCATION ACT (IDEA):
The federal law pertaining to students with special needs within the education system.

INPATIENT CARE:
Medical care that requires the patient be admitted to and treated in a hospital. Most hospital care is inpatient care; a patient can also receive "outpatient" care in a hospital's emergency room or ambulatory care center.

INTERAGENCY COORDINATING COUNCIL (ICC):
A state council composed of families and professionals to set policy and monitor Part H/C, the federal early childhood special education law.

LANTERMAN ACT:
California state law guaranteeing certain rights to persons with developmental disabilities, including a right to treatment and habilitation services, humane care, prompt medical care and treatment, and to be free from harm and hazardous procedures.

LIFETIME MAXIMUM:
The total amount that an insurance policy will pay out for medical care during the lifetime of the insured person. In the case of a chronic condition, one should check into options for enrolling in another group plan during an open enrollment period well before approaching a lifetime maximum.

LIMITATIONS:
Conditions or circumstances for which benefits are not payable or are limited. It is important to read the limitations, exclusions and reductions clause in your policy or certificate or insurance to determine which expenses are not covered.

LOCK-IN:
The requirement that members of an HMO or other managed care plan must have all of their covered services provided, arranged or authorized by the plan or its doctors, except in life-threatening emergencies or when members are temporarily "out of area." This contrasts with a "point-of-service" plan, which allows patients to receive covered services without prior authorization but at a higher cost outside a plan's network.

LONG-TERM CARE:
A continuum of maintenance, custodial and health services for people with chronic illness, disability or mental retardation.

MANAGED CARE:
The integration of health care delivery and financing. It includes arrangements with providers to supply health care services to members, criteria for the selection of health care providers, significant incentives for members to use providers in the plan and formal programs to monitor the amount of care and quality of services.

MANAGED CARE ORGANIZATION (MCO):
Health organization, whether for-profit or not-for-profit, that finances and delivers health care using a specific provider network and specific services and products.

MANAGED COMPETITION:
A method for controlling health care costs by organizing employers, individuals and other buyers of health care into large cooperatives that will purchase coverage for their members. Insurance companies and managed care organizations will compete to supply coverage for the lowest cost. (See Health Insurance Purchasing Cooperative definition.)

MANDATED BENEFITS:
Specific benefits that insurers are required to offer by state law. Each state has its own legislation on mandated benefits.

MANDATORY ENROLLMENT:
Requirement that certain groups of people must enroll in a program. Medicaid managed care, for example.

MEDICAID:
Federal program (Title XIX of the Social Security Act) that pays for health services for certain categories of people who are poor, elderly, blind, disabled or who are enrolled in certain programs, including Medicaid Waivers. Includes children whose families received assistance. Is financed with federal and state funds, amount varying by state.

MEDICAL HOME:
A concept wherein health care is accessible, family-centered, continuous, comprehensive, coordinated, compassionate and culturally competent. In a "medical home,” physicians and parents share responsibility for ensuring that children and their families have access to all the medical and non-medical services needed to help them achieve their maximum potential.

MEDICAL NECESSITY:
Legal term used to determine eligibility for health benefits and services. It describes services that are consistent with a diagnosis, meet standards of good medical practice and are not primarily for convenience of the patient.

MEDICALLY NECESSARY SERVICES:
A clause in a health insurance policy that states that the policy covers only services needed to maintain a certain level of health. The clause also defines—often in general terms—what those services are. One should find out exactly what an insurer means by this term in order to present a request in the most appropriate way. Interpretations of the term "medically necessary" vary widely.

MEDICARE:
Title XX of the Social Security Act, which pays for health care for the elderly, and adults who are disabled.

MEDICALLY UNNECESSARY DAYS:
A term used to describe that part of a stay in a facility, as determined by a case manager, as excessive to diagnose and treat a medical condition in accordance with the standards of good medical practice and the medical community. Excessive may be because stay was too long or was in a more costly or less efficient setting.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF INSURANCE COMMISSIONERS (NAIC):
An organization of state insurance commissioners that writes model laws and regulations governing the insurance industry.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE ON QUALITY ASSURANCE (NCQA):
An independent, not-for-profit organization that reviews and accredits managed care plans, including HMOs. NCQA also developed a set of tools called Health Plan Employer Data and Information Set (HEDIS) which provides standardized performance measures for reporting on health plans they review.

OMBUDSMAN:
Person designated by a health plan or Medicaid to solve problems and answer questions from consumers in an objective way.

OPEN ENROLLMENT PERIOD:
A period when employees may sign up for a health plan without waiting periods or consideration for preexisting conditions. Many employers offer these periods yearly and when employment begins.

OPT-OUT:
An option available through some managed care plans, such as point-of-service HMOs and Preferred Provider Organizations, to choose or receive covered care from providers outside the plan's network at a higher cost.

OUT OF AREA:
Beyond or outside the geographical area served by an HMO or other managed network plan. When HMO members are inside their plan's service area, they must have their care provided, arranged or authorized by their HMO or HMO doctor in order to get full coverage; when they are temporarily out of area, different coverage rules apply.

OUT-OF-PLAN SERVICES:
Services furnished to patients by providers who are not members of a patient's managed care network.

OUT-OF-POCKET COSTS:
All the health expenses that you must pay, including deductibles, co-payments and charges not covered by any health plan.

OUTCOMES MEASURE:
A tool to assess the impact of health services in terms of improved quality and/or longevity of life and functioning.

OUTPATIENT BENEFITS OR COVERAGE:
Treatment or services received in a setting such as a clinic or doctor's office and not as an admitted patient in a hospital. In the case of a chronic condition, one should carefully check the out-patient benefits in any plan because most services will take place on an out-patient basis.

PARENT TRAINING AND INFORMATION CENTER (PTI):
Every state has a parent-run organization funded by the U.S. Department of Education to provide information and training to families around education issues for their children with special needs.

PART C:
Early Start - the early childhood component of IDEA which used to be called Part H. Regional Centers and Special Education departments are responsible for Early Start services for children birth to three years of age who are developmentally delayed or who are at risk of delay.
PARTICIPATING PROVIDERS:
A physician who signs a contract with a PPO or HMO plan and agrees to accept the plan's allowable charges.

PER DIEM COST:
Cost per day; hospital or other institutional cost for a day of care.

PHYSICIAN HOSPITAL ORGANIZATION (PHO):
Organization that includes hospitals and physicians contracting with one or more HMOs, insurance plans or directly with employers to provide medical services.

POINT-OF-SERVICE:
A term that applies to certain health maintenance organizations and preferred provider organizations. Members in a point-of-service HMO or PPO can go outside the network for care, but their reimbursement will be less than if they had remained inside.

PRACTICE GUIDELINES OR PROTOCOL:
Description of a course of treatment or established practice pattern. Managed care entities develop and distribute these to providers in their network to guide clinical treatment decisions. (See also Standard of Care definition.)

PRE-AUTHORIZATION:
Approval from an insurance plan or a designated primary care provider is obtained before specialty services are provided or the service will not be reimbursed.

PRE-EXISTING CONDITIONS:
A physical or mental health condition that has been treated or would normally have been treated before enrollment in an insurance plan. Policies may exclude coverage for such conditions for a specified period of time. In some cases, pre-existing conditions exclude a person completely from buying health insurance. An insurance company may decide to charge higher premiums or offer the insurance but refuse to cover any treatment relating to the specific condition. Some states have laws limiting exclusions for pre-existing conditions.

PREFERRED PROVIDER ORGANIZATION (PPO):
A form of managed care plan in which a group of providers contract with an insurer and agree to provide services at pre-negotiated fees. Members must have a primary care provider who is a member of the PPO. Members are given incentives to use providers within the organization, but may use providers outside the plan for greater out-of-pocket costs.

PREMIUM:
The charge paid to the insurer for health coverage. This may be paid weekly, monthly, quarterly or annually.

PREPAID HEALTH CARE ACT:
A federal law passed in 1973 that sets standards for federally qualified health maintenance organizations. Among the standards are minimum benefits and formal grievance procedures.

PREPAID HEALTH PLAN (PHP):
Health organization that receives prepaid capitation payments for a select set of benefits; for example, physician services or lab tests.

PREPAID PLANS:
A health insurance plan where you pay a fixed premium to cover much of the care you receive. Prepaid plans include HMOs and PPOs.

PREVENTIVE CARE:
Medical services that try to reduce the chances of illness, injury or other conditions. This contrasts with acute care, which is given after the condition has occurred.

PRIMARY CARE:
Routine medical care, usually provided in a doctor's office.

PRIMARY CARE CASE MANAGEMENT:
System that pays primary care providers a monthly fee to coordinate medical services. Especially used by Medicaid.

PRIOR APPROVAL:
Permission needed from a Primary Care Provider or the health plan before a service can be delivered or paid for.

PROFESSIONAL REVIEW ORGANIZATION (PRO):
An organization that determines whether care and services provided are medically necessary and meet professional standards under Medicare and Medicaid.

PROLONGED ILLNESS CLAUSE or EXTENDED BENEFITS:
A possible option in insurance coverage for 100 percent reimbursement (instead of partial) for all... services relating to a condition. This option may also add to the lifetime maximum.

PROSPECTIVE REVIEW:
The process in which a plan reviews a planned hospital admission prior to the admission date in order to evaluate whether the admission is medically necessary. A component of utilization management.

PROVIDER:
A hospital, skilled nursing facility, outpatient surgical facility, physician, practitioner or other individual or organization which is licensed to provide medical or surgical services, therapy, treatment and accommodations.

QUALITY ASSURANCE:
A term that describes attempts by health care organizations to measure and monitor the quality of care delivered.

QUALITY MANAGEMENT:
A formal set of activities to assure the quality of services provided. Quality management includes quality assessment and corrective actions taken to remedy any deficiencies identified through the assessment process.

RATIONING:
The allocation of medical care by cost or availability of services.

REFERRAL:
A formal process by which a patient is authorized to receive care from a specialist, therapist or hospital. Most managed care organizations (MCO’s) usually require a referral from the member's primary care provider in order for specialty care to be covered.

REFERRAL PHYSICIAN:
A physician who has a patient referred to him by another source for examination, surgery, or to have specific procedures performed on the patient, usually because the referring source is not prepared or qualified to provide the needed service.

REINSURANCE:
Insurance purchased by a health plan to protect against extremely high medical costs, either for specific groups or individuals.

RENEWAL:
The clause in an insurance plan that describes how one might renegotiate the contract after the term is finished. Guaranteed renewability of an insurance policy protects from loss of coverage, although an insurer may still raise premiums.

REPORT CARD:
A published report for consumers on the premium costs for a plan and overall quality of a health plan or provider. Report card generally measure a plan's delivery of appropriate services, patient outcomes, patient satisfaction and cost structure.

RIDER:
A legal document added to an insurance plan that either restricts or adds to coverage. States may have regulations about riders.

RISK:
An insurance term related to financial responsibility for medical care. A "high-risk" individual is someone who has a high likelihood of having a serious illness, because of past medical history, family history or health-related behavior, such as smoking or alcohol abuse. "At risk" or "risk-bearing" means being responsible for the cost of care for a group of people. For instance, if an HMO pays a hospital a fixed amount of money per member to provide all of the care he or she needs, the hospital is "at risk" for that member. "Risk adjustment" is an extra payment made by a medical insurance company to a health provider or medical group if its members are, on average, sicker and more expensive to care for.

RISK POOLS:
Arrangements by states to provide health insurance to the unhealthy uninsured who have been rejected for coverage by insurance carriers.

RISK SHARING:
A situation in which a managed care entity or a provider assumes responsibility for services for a specific group but in which it is protected against unexpectedly high costs by a pre-arranged agreement. The Managed Care Organization (MCO) or provider may receive higher payment for those individuals who need significantly more costly services. Usually Medicaid and an MCO, agree through a formula to share any losses that result when medical costs exceed payments.

SCHIP:
The State Children’s Health Insurance Program recently passed by Congress to fund health coverage for America’s 10 million uninsured children. SCHIP sends millions of dollars to every state over the next 10 years for states to design and plan their own programs. Also known as Title XXI. [California’s proposed SCHIP is called “Healthy Families.”]
SECOND OPINION REVIEW:
A managed care technique in which a second physician is consulted regarding diagnosis or course of treatment.

SECONDARY CARE:
A level of medical care between primary care and tertiary care, usually provided by medical specialists and usually requiring a referral from an HMO member's primary care provider.

SELF-INSURED:
An arrangement in which an employer writes its own plan to cover health care costs for employees. Benefits and costs are determined by the employer. These plans may be administered by an insurance company or involve an insurance broker.

SELF-REFERRAL:
A patient's ability to refer himself or herself, under certain circumstances, for specialty care, without receiving a formal referral or prior authorization from the patient's MCO or primary care provider.

SERVICE AREA:
The geographical area within which an HMO or other managed care plan provides and arranges medical care for its members. This area is sometimes the same as the plan's enrollment area, but not always.

SERVICE LIMITS:
Certain number of times you may use a health service and a certain time period when you may use a service.

SINGLE-PAYER SYSTEM:
A health care financing arrangement in which money, usually from a variety of taxes, is funneled to a single government entity which then pays the medical bills for all covered members. Canada and England are single-payer health systems.

SINGLE POINT OF ENTRY:
An individual can gain access to services only through a primary care provider who decides what services are needed. (See Gatekeeper definition.)

SKILLED NURSING FACILITY (SNF):
An institution providing skilled nursing and related services to residents; a nursing home.

SOCIALIZED MEDICINE:
A health care financing and delivery system in which doctors work for the government and receive a salary for their services.

SOLE-SOURCE OPTION:
An employer chooses a single insurer or health plan to cover all of its employees. If the sole-source option is an HMO, it will usually offer both a standard lock-in plan and a point-of-service plan that allows members to choose to get care outside the HMO network at a higher cost.

SPEND-DOWN:
The process of using up all income and assets on medical care in order to qualify for Medicaid.

STAFF-MODEL HMO:
An HMO that directly employs on a salaried basis the doctors and other providers who furnish care.

STANDARD OF CARE:
Written practice guidelines based on medical diagnosis that physicians and managed care organizations may use to guide treatment and service choices. See also “Practice Guidelines or Protocol.”

STATE INSURANCE REGULATIONS:
The laws and regulations that govern insurance companies operating within a given state. There is also a state process for filing complaints and appeals. A state Commission of Insurance and associated departments or division provide information and assistance. Consumer Information and Assistance Line is 1-800-027-4357]

STOP-LOSS:
A clause that limits liability to a specified amount on medical expenses covered by a policy. After expenses reach that amount, the insurance company pays all remaining covered medical expenses for the year including deductibles and co-payments.

SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME (SSI):
Monthly cash assistance for people, including children, who have low incomes and who meet certain age or disability guidelines. In most states, SSI also includes access to Medicaid.

SUPPLEMENTARY AIDS AND SERVICES:
Under IDEA, the developmental, corrective, or supportive services required to assist a child with a disability to benefit from special education. Includes, transportation, speech-language pathology, audiology, psychological services, physical and occupational therapy, recreation, social work services, counseling, orientation and mobility, medical services for diagnostic and evaluation purposes.
TARGETED CASE MANAGEMENT:
A Medicaid term for case management services covered under Title XIX of the Social Security Act (as of November 1995). Federal law defines Targeted Case Management as services that will assist individuals eligible under the state Medicaid plan in gaining access to needed medical, social, educational and other services.

TAX EQUITY AND FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY ACT OF 1988 (TEFRA):
Federal program allowing a child with extensive health needs to receive medical assistance, even if the family’s income is higher than allowed under regular medical assistance guidelines.

TERTIARY CARE:
The upper level of medical care and services, usually provided in hospitals by highly trained "sub-specialists" using the most advanced medical technology.

THIRD PARTY PAYMENT:
The payment for health care by a party other than the beneficiary.

TITLE V/CSHCN:
The state agency that uses state and federal funds to provide services, programs and systems of care for Children with Special Health Care Needs (CSHCN). The federal version (Division for Children with Special Health Care Needs/DCSHCN) is located in the federal Maternal and Child Health Bureau (MCHB).

UNCOMPENSATED CARE:
The care provided by doctors and hospitals for which no reimbursement or payment is made; also known as charity care.

UNDERWRITING:
An insurance company practice of assessing risks of illness and costs and setting premiums based on the assessments. Similar to experience rating.

URGENT CARE:
Occurs when a patient has an illness that is not life-threatening but that requires immediate attention.

USUAL, CUSTOMARY AND REASONABLE (UCR):
A fee controlling system to determine the lowest value of physician reimbursement based on: (1) the physician's usual charge for a given procedure; (2) the amount customarily charged for the service by other physicians in the area; and (3) the reasonable cost of services for a given patient after medical review of the case. If charges are higher than what the carrier considers normal, the carrier will not pay the full amount charged and the balance is your responsibility.

UTILIZATION:
The amount of medical services used by a given population, usually over a specific period of time or as an average related to the number of people in the population. For instance, an HMO’s utilization rate for office visits might be five visits per member per year. Hospital utilization is often reported as the number of days in the hospital, on average, for each 1000 members of the group being measured (days/1000). In the interest of reducing costs, health plans and insurers try to reduce unnecessary or inappropriate utilization through "utilization management" or "utilization review."

UTILIZATION REVIEW:
A process that assures that medically necessary acute inpatient and outpatient care has been provided in the most appropriate and cost-effective settings.

WAITING PERIODS:
The period of time required by an insurance company after a person is covered by a policy before specific health services are covered by the plan. This time can vary from a number of months to a number of years.

WAIVERS:
The result of a process that allows state Medicaid agencies to apply for and receive permission from HCFA to provide services not otherwise covered by Medicaid and/or to do so in ways not described by the Social Security Act. Most Medicaid managed care programs require Waivers. The Waivers, which can differ greatly, are known by their numbers (1115, 1119) or as home-and community-based, or as Katie Beckett waivers.

WRAP-AROUND:
A supplementary insurance plan designed to pay for additional health benefits not covered by another plan. A wrap-around policy can provide more comprehensive benefits for a person with extensive needs.
