Save Medicaid, Cuts Hurt Us All!

Medicaid is Good for Us All!

Medicaid covers kids in every state, from every background. It provides affordable coverage to children in lower-income families and to kids with disabilities and special health care needs.

Medicaid is a partnership between the federal government and states. It is the single largest health insurer for children in the United States, covering 72 million Americans, including more than 40 million children and people with disabilities.

Medicaid also provides more than half of the funding for children's hospitals across the United States.

Even if you have private insurance, cuts to Medicaid will impact you!

Medicaid Cuts Hurt People with Private Insurance

Medicaid provides more than half of the funding for children's hospitals across the United States.

Children's hospitals are at the core of the health care delivery system for children, bringing together teams of specialists to provide care not available in any other setting.

Even if you have private insurance, cuts to Medicaid will impact you!

Medicaid Pays for Disability Services

Medicaid is critical for children and adults with disabilities. Medicaid pays for services and supports that are essential to people with disabilities including early intervention, doctors' appointments, medicine, wheelchairs, walkers, treatments, tests, respite care, home and community-based services, as well as supported employment and supported housing.
